Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

Mrs. Mary O. Hahn, No. 2023 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "For two years I have been troubled with biliousness caused by inactivity of the liver. I had disry spells at times, pains across my back and a kired, heavy feeling, with loss of appetite and nervousness. Our family physician prescribed some liver tablets which cartainly did not help me in the least. I took Apollinaris and other mineral waters, but my complexion became more yellow and my general health worse. Heading one of your little bookiets, I decided to give Ir. Caidwell's Symp Pepsin a trial and am so glad I did. One bottle did more for methan ten dollars' worth of other remedies. I knew at once I had the right romedy. I kept laking it for several weeks, when I custidered myself completely cured. My skin, is white and smooth as a baby and I feel in expelient health and apirits, thanks to your remedy.

GIRL FROM WORKHOUSE

Attorney Fickheissen Endeavors to Secure Release of Kate Casey From Prison.

SWEETHEART WILL PAY FINE.

Court's Refusal to Reduce Sentence May Result in Appeal So They Can Be United.

Attorney Fred Fickheissen is endeavoring to bring about the marriage of his client, Kate Casey, who is in jail waiting to be transferred to the Workhouse, where she has been sentenced for six months on a charge of shoplifting.

Mr. Fickheissen yesterday morning made an unsuccessful effort to have Judge Moore change the penalty to a fine of $100, saying an unsuccessful effort to have Judge Moore change the penalty to a fine of $100, saying the girl's sweetheart, William Kane, was willing to pay that amount to get her out so they could wel.

Judge Moore declined to act, It is possible that an appeal may be taken, bond given and the girl released so the wedding may take place.

Katie Casey is about 20 years old. She is said to be the pupil of such well-known women oriminals as Mamie White, May Harrington and Ella Slik, who have been arrested on numerous occasions.

The Casey girl is not uncomely. She was arrested several months ago for the first time by Detectives Ziegler and Lawler, who caught her after a chase through Union Market. When searched by Matron Kintzling at the Four Courts a large pocket, made in her underskirt, was found. In this laces and a boit of slik, which were identified as having been stolen, were found.

For this offense Judge Clark fined her $25. She was again arrested about two weeks ago, and when she cume before Judge Moore he sentenced her to six months in the Workhouse.

AFTER FIRST PRIZE ON CORN. Farmers of Massac County, Illinois, Have Well-Formed Plans. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

nois, Have Well-Formed Plans.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Metropolis, Iil., Feb. 7.—The farmers of Massac County are determined to capture the first prize on corn at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis next year, and are going about their plans in a very systematic manner to that end.

Massac County carried off the prize over the whole world on corn at the Columbian Exposition in Chicago, and was one of the five Southern Illinois counties which stood so high in the exhibits of small fruits.

Last fall, at a meeting of the Farmers' Institute, a special committee was appointed to look after getting an exhibit of corneady for the St. Louis Exposition. This committee has arranged with a large number of farmers, especially young men, to grow small plats of "exhibit corn." Certain ones are to devote their entire effort to producing certain kinds of corn, so that the best of each variety will thus be secured.

Other cereals, vegetables and fruits will be snown for entry in the Massac County exhibit, and it is confidently expected that the record made at Chicago will be excelled at St. Louis.

Quite a rivalry has grown up among the farmers over this plan in the various neighboring Expytian counties, and they will each strive to bring their own county out ahead when the final awards are announced. The result is already being seen in the plans for more scientific and up-to-date farming and in the raising of better stock. If the St. Louis World's Fair does nothing else, it will accomplish much good in this respect.

TEACHING DOGS TO HUNT MEN. Animals Follow Men Hired to Play Fugitives.

Fugitives.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The first attempt to track a criminal in the city of Washington with bloodhounds was made when Detective Trumbo set his two hounds in pursuit of the murderer of Mrs. Kate Jourdan, in Anacosta, a few hours after the crime.

In Washington it has been thought bloodhounds would be of little service, and it is found that they can pick up the scent on the asphalt pavement only with the greatest difficulty. Conditions in the Anacosta case, however, were different.

The hum for the murderer was going on with promise of swiit success until a fall of snow covered the trail so effectively as to make it impossible, after the scent had been lost on one side of the river, to pick it up on the other.

Detective Trumbo's bloodhounds are 9 months old and have graduated from a course of education in Washington. The first thing they learned was to respond to their names, and then to a peculiar whistle that the detective composed for the purpose. Afterwards came a course of kindergarten work in the ordinary dog play of locating things by scent. To teach them this took weeks of patient toil. It completed their grammar-school course.

Finally they were taken out in the country for college education. They were held while Detective Trumbo would take a run off out of sight. It was easy for them to follow one with whom they were so familiar as their master, especially as the scent was in the open air. Their final lessons came in their being allowed to follow colored men hired to travel across the country.

When the dogs were permitted to follow human beings they seemed to be in their element and have been very accurate in following the exact path taken by men.
